WEEKSVILLE HIGH SCHOOL
Weeksville, North Carolina
Volume 10

FOREWORD

It is the purpose of this edition of the BOW WOW to show the many forces at work in our school and community helping to mold the future of our students and shape them into citizens of a democracy.

The home, strengthened by the church, sends the raw material into this educational plant to be turned into finished products ready for distribution into the homes, churches, colleges, and business institutions of our community and others like it.

We are proud of our community - the homes, the churches, the business firms, and our school. We present to you a record of a good year, a typical year, in the Weeksville community as shown through the school and its activities - in this, our 1957 BOW WOW.

DEDICATION

To all the parents of the Weeksville community - those who have stood at the open doors of life and beckoned us on with tender smiles when we need encouragement, pushed us forward with gentle hands when we needed boosting, and held us back with loving care when we needed restraint in our youthful exuberance - we dedicate with love and gratitude this 1957 edition of the BOW WOW.

Superintendent - MR. J. H. MOORE

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE TO THE SENIORS

I want to take this opportunity to thank you for the splendid work you have done in the Weeksville High School.

I have been inspired and thrilled with the fine manner in which you have pursued your school activities. It is a credit to the splendid training you have received in your Christian homes. You have had a great desire to make your high school one of the best in the state, and with the splendid leadership on the part of your principal and faculty, you have attained this goal.

It is my sincere hope that each of you will continue your education.

My sincere thanks to all of you for your generous support. I wish you God's speed and a successful conclusion to the unfinished tasks which remain in your lives.

CLASS POEM

Years of toil and frolic
A dozen to be exact,
Have brought us joy and sorrow
That none would take back.

Our teachers with us have struggled
The lesson we were taught
To turn our cheek the second time,
And to give something for naught.

Seniors now they call us,
Graduates soon we'll be;
The vast world looms before us
Our own conquerors are we.

Weeksville High at last we're leaving
The tears we shed before we go
Are sacred tears of grief caused
By departing from friends we love so.

Inspired by our faculty's beacon,
Taught by trial and success,
We set our sails proudly forward,
Our spirits hard to depress!
Maude Gray

SENIOR CLASS SONG (Tune: Sempet Fidelis)

We are the Weeksville Senior Class
We're happy and proud and free
Though winds may blow or storms appear
High shall our purpose be.

We've done our work as best we can
We've had much pleasure too
And as we live from day to day
Weeksville we all love you.

Soon we'll be on our merry way
We're leaving with a sigh
We'll ne'er forget the days we've spent
Right here at Weeksville High.

We face the future with a smile
Our lives have just begun
We'll ever keep our standards high
Until our goal is won.

Motto: It is better to have an education and not need it, than to need an education and not have it.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of 1954 twenty-four unsuspecting Freshmen entered a new phase of their school life. We entered high school with twenty-four, but on the first day of school we had twenty-eight. Judy Shackelford transferred from Elizabeth City, Billy Fletcher, Bobby Jennings, and Ernest Cartwright left their class to join us.

Mrs. Marguerite Foster was our home room teacher and Barbara Jennings was our class president. The highlight of the year was a Christmas party in the agricultural shop.

After our summer vacation, we entered our Sophomore year with more self-confidence. There were only twenty-three of us to start the fall term. Charlie Eves, who had quit school, decided to join us. Bonnie Fenton, Garland Cox, and Kenneth York remained as Freshmen. Mrs. Margaret Houtz was our home room teacher, and Byron Meads, president. We also chose our class rings that year.

When our Junior year arrived we greeted the new term with much anticipation, for it was our turn to be host to the Senior class at the annual Junior-Senior.

We were pleased to find that Mrs. Houtz would again be our advisor. Byron was re-elected president. We had twenty-six Juniors. Robert Eves and Ronnie Fenton chose to remain as Juniors. Both Robert and Charlie Eves decided to resign before the end of school.

We were very proud of the money we earned for our Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom. We sold magazines, had a concession stand during the boat regatta, and gave a real live, bang up, rootin', tootin', shootin', hillbilly play, "A Feudin' Over Yonder."

We had the banquet in the Virginia Dare Hotel. In the setting of Oriental Gardens, everyone enjoyed a delightful evening of eating, dancing, laughing and merry-making.

It had been a long, hard struggle for some of us, but there are now twenty-three hopeful seniors that are looking forward to graduation on May 17. J. C. Garrett is our president, and Mrs. Bright, home room teacher and advisor.

We have chosen our invitations and mascots and ordered our caps and gowns.

In the future we are looking forward to our senior play, Junior-Senior Banquet and Graduation exercises.

There is a feeling of sadness in the air as the end of the year approaches. Having chosen our invitations, we realize how near we are to the end of our high school career, to the goal we have worked toward - graduation. These past twelve years have been ones that all of us will remember, years that can't be forgotten.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of Weeksville High School, while still sound in mind and body but realizing that our end is near, do hereby bequeath to those designated below the following possessions which we hope will be used wisely.

To Weeksville High School we leave our self-control and good attitudes.

To Mr. Morrisette we leave our appreciation for a history class well taught in hopes that his other classes will be rewarding.

To Mrs. Bright we leave our good usage of grammar and our ability to spell.

To Mrs. Houtz we leave the love and devotion of twenty-five seniors.

To the Junior Class we leave our examples as Seniors.

- I, William Charles Benton, will my height to Leonidreus James so he can play center on the basketball team.
- I, Jean Lave Brickhouse, will my position as basketball manager to Dorothy Chambers. (Don't go to the first game with Mrs. Bright, Dorothy.)
- I, Betty Brite, will my ability to speak French to Glenn Odom.
- I, Betty Parker Carter, will my quietness to Virginia Lee Ives. (Sinner down, Ginny!)
- I, Billy Davis, will my athletic ability to my brother Buddy, who doesn't really need it and also my ability to get filled up on Miss Bessie's cooking, because he's always starving.
- I, Ronnie Fenton, kindly will nothing to nobody.
- I, Billy Fletcher, will my football position as center to Wesley Sanders. (Let's eat some whee-dees, Wes.)
- I, J. C. Garrett, will my safe driving ability to Fentress Maiden. (Don't join the "Reds", Red.)
- I, Edward Adler Gray, will my witty ways to Billy Sanders. (Keep 'em laughing, Bill.)
- I, Mable Gray, will my pop at the bangin' games to next year's crowd. (There's be enough for everybody.)
- I, Charles Henry James, will my ability to play "rock and roll" music to Bobby Klocka. (Keep on rocking, Bobby!)
- I, Barbara Jennings, will my basketball suit to any girl that Mr. Williams thinks deserves it.
- I, Bobby Jennings, kindly will nothing to nobody, because I need it all myself. (Not being selfish, of course.)
- I, Margie Jennings, will my shape to Marie Gray. (Watch those curves, Marie!)
- I, Angela Johnson, will my position as head cheerleader to Nel. Meads. (Get the lead out of your shoes, Nel.)
- I, Byron Meads, will my tackle position on the football team to James Odom. (Smash that line, Jack.)
- I, James Meads, will my basketball suit to Jimmy Markham if he thinks it will fit him.
- I, Ann Palmer, will my place in the Home Ec. room to the incoming Freshmen. (Get a good start, girl!)
- I, Janet Pendleton, will my curls to Betty Lou Jennings.
- I, Joe Scott, will my ability to take three Englishes my senior year to anybody, and the ability to pass them to myself.
- I, Judy Shackelford, will my silly giggle and music talent to Grace Cifton. (Watch those notes, Grace.)
- I, Teddy Thomas, will my ability to make 95 on science mid-term exam to Bobby Towley. (You'd have to study, Bobby.)
- I, George Edward Trueblood, will my wavy black hair to Jennette Whedbee.
- I, Mary Lou Trueblood, will my position in the ice cream store to anyone who needs to put on a few pounds. (Even if I didn't.)

BETTY BRITE AND EDWARD GRAY

The Harvest Festival was held on Halloween night. It is an annual affair sponsored by the P. T. A., and the reigning royalty are chosen from among candidates selected by each grade. The students and community choose the King and Queen from among the high school contestants, and Prince and Princess from among the elementary school contestants, and the Duke and Duchess from among the primary school contestants. The pictures of the other contestants appear elsewhere in the book.

Dear Carolyn,

Well here it is the end of the year again. I could say see you next year, but as you know I won't be here. I can't express how much I have ^{liked} being with you in school. You are a very good friend to me now, and always will be in the future. I hope I can come back sometime to see you after we are out of school, of course. Don't forget!

dictation from Mrs. Houtz, as if we ever could, and also the nights I have spent with you. I know I'll never forget them. I hope you won't forget me anytime soon and I will write when I leave. As Teddy said you are a "ray of sunshine". Here's hoping to see you again sometime soon.

Love always,

Carolyn, I sure have enjoyed going to school with you this past 11 years. Don't ever forget me, and I'll assume you that I'll never forget you. I sure have had some good times with you this year particularly. Remember all those drive-ways? I'll be seeing you around.

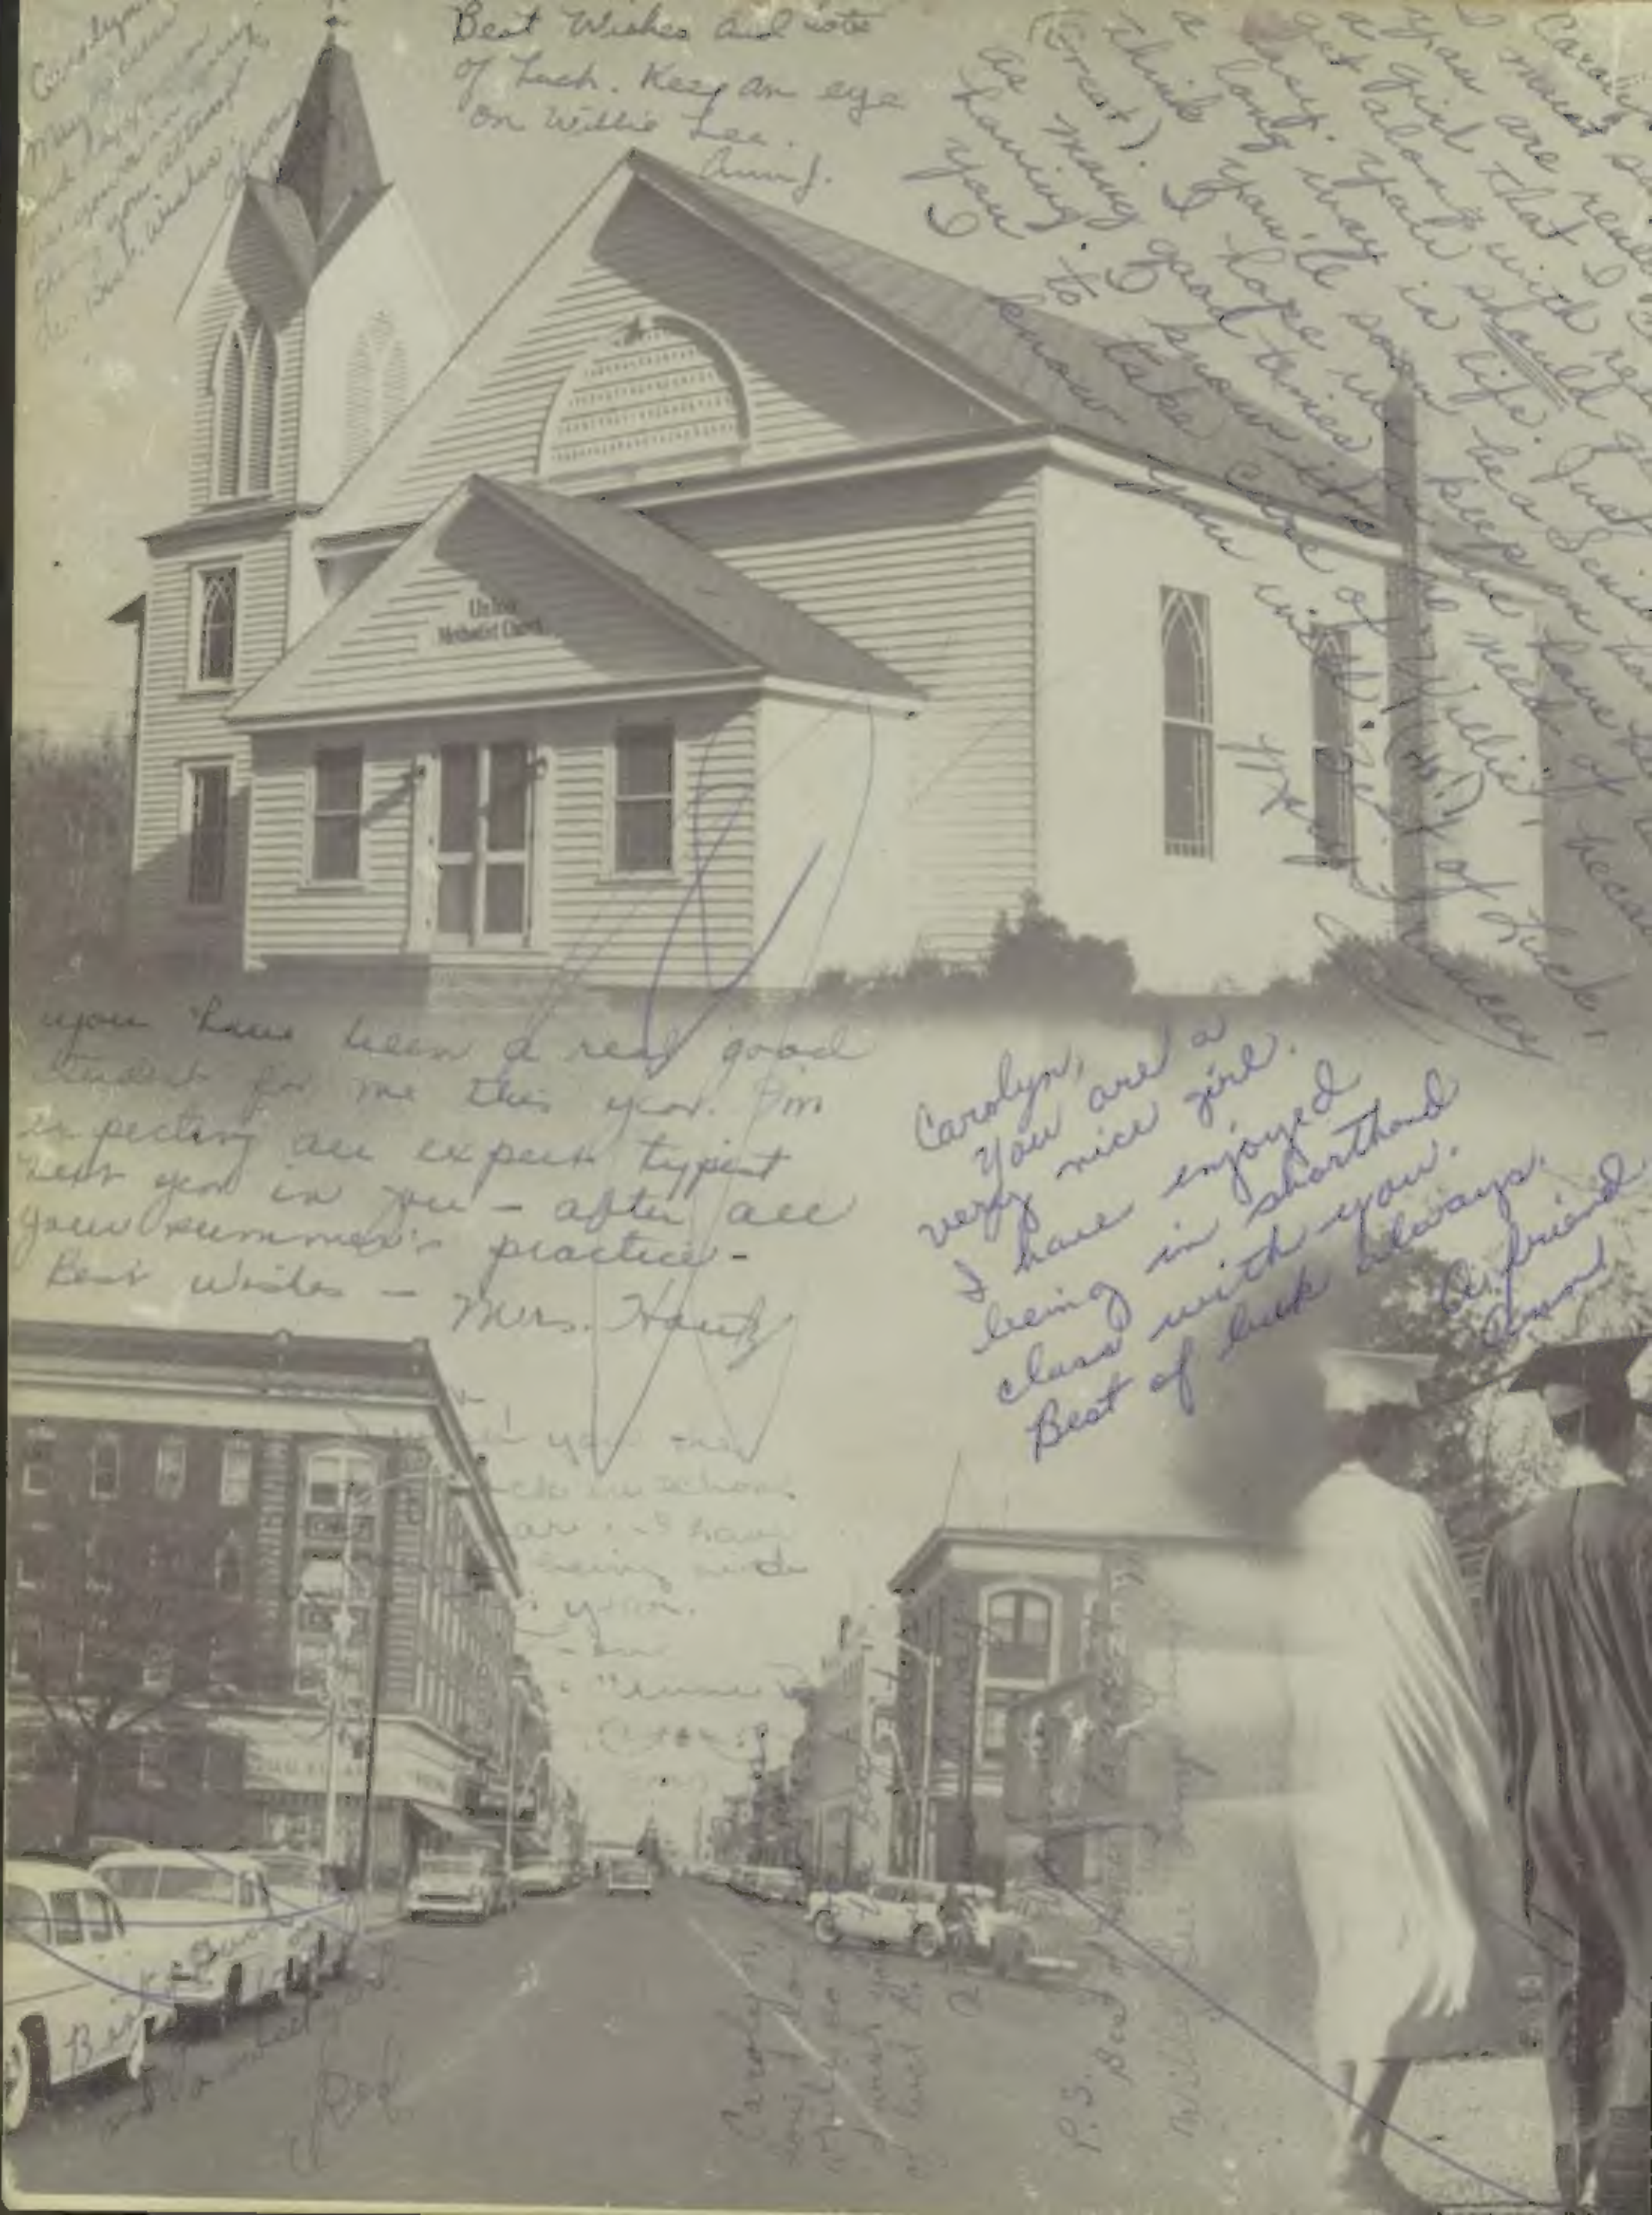

Lots of Luck

Carolyn, I don't know what to write to a friend I have known for a long time. Because we keep the news all in a bag of fun that we have had together. We will be seeing each other again and again. I have enjoyed these eleven years in school. Best of luck and success to a good girl. Love, Sue
